So there are some complications asso-ciated with it, there are some funding implications associated with the bill. It is pretty clear that in one of the provisions of the bill it sug-gests that the Department would be responsible for requesting all of the money needed to properly implement all our statutory re-quirements, and that would be difficult in this environment. Ms. F. Excuse me. I said Title X, I meant Title V. ALLIN ASON Mr. C. I knew what you meant. Ms. F. I can read my numbers, I just misspoke. ALLIN Mr. C. I knew where you were going. ASON ALLIN Ms. F. Can I ask you another question, too You testified that extending the Title V to Interior programs would potentially increase the Federal governments liabilities. In what manner and under what circumstances are you thinking that this might de-velop. M C. Well, the provisions of the bill state explicitly that ASON nothing that happens in implementing the bill would reduce the Secretarys liability for trust assets. What we are effectively doing is removing the Secretarys resources to implement trust respon-sibilities, transferring that to tribes under self-governance, the de-cisions under self-governance about how to manage those assets, but the Secretary still remains liable for whatever the results are. One of the fundamental principles of management is you...
