TALKING, DRAWING, WRITING: LESSONS FOR OUR YOUNGEST WRITERS

Stenhouse Publishers. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Talking, Drawing, Writing: Lessons for Our Youngest Writers, Martha Horn, Mary Ellen Giacobbe, Invites rs desigeaders to join them in classrooms where they listen, watch, and talk with children, then use what they learn to create lessonned to meet children where they are and lead them into the world of writing. The authors make a case for a broader definition of writing, advocating for formal storytelling sessions, in which children tell about what they know, and for focused sketching sessions so that budding writers learn how to observe more carefully. The book's lessons are organized by topic and include oral storytelling, drawing, writing words, assessment, introducing booklets, and moving writers forward. Based on the authors' work in urban kindergarten and first-grade classes, the essence and structure of many of the lessons lend themselves to adaptation through fifth grade. The lessons follow a consistent format: what's going on in the classroom; what children need to learn next; the materials needed; the actual language used in the lesson; when children's literature is used, reasons for choosing the books and suggestions for other books; suggestions for other lessons. Martha and Mary Ellen show the thinking behind their teaching decisions and provide a way to look at and assess children's writing, giving us much more than a book of lessons; they present a vision of what beginning writing can look and sound like. Perhaps most powerfully, they give us examples of the language they use with children that reveal a genuine respect for and trust in children as learners.
